

Selborne Hand Made Clay Floor Tiles

Selborne floor tiles are cut by hand from the clay column and then brushed and sanded on the wearing surface.

The tiles have the same superb frost resistance as our facing bricks and are therefore suitable for either internal or external use. For internal use sealing with a liquid floor polish or linseed oil produces a subtle sheen and removes any dust problem.

Currently the tiles are made in 9" by 9" and 9" by 4" sizes. Half tiles, corner tiles and other sizes are possible – we intend to expand our range as we are asked to, rather than speculate.

9x9 Multi Red [Left]

These have been dry laid for photo purposes. Note the unique colouration on each tile.

Prices start from £1.50 per tile, which equates to about £60 per square metre

9x9 Hampshire Red [below]

Again, these have been dry laid in our yard. Note the variations in shade

Hampshire Red Paviments [Below]

Dry laid in basket weave. Of course, you can make other patterns.

£0.65 each £650 Per thousand

Please note that the colour varies slightly from tile to tile. This is caused by minor variations in the kiln temperature and the iron oxides in the brick.

Our prices are ex-works ex-VAT. We can arrange delivery through 3rd party hauliers. Due to the current spiralling price of gas we reserve the right to adjust prices at short notice. The prices quoted were correct on 1st May 2009.